THE ULTIMATE ONEZEE

The Ultimate Onezee is the ultimate in convenience!

Busy parents and caregivers are always looking for the latest products that will make caring for baby easier and more efficient. The invention of The Ultimate Onezee is surely one of those products that will quickly make it to the top of the “must-have” list. Designed as a one piece sleeper, The Ultimate Onezee would feature an additional zipper closure on the legs of the garment, as opposed to merely opening down the front. This cleverly designed sleeper will provide parents and caregivers of infants with a practical means of easily, and quickly, changing the child.

The Ultimate Onezee was invented by Debra Andrews, who says this about her product. “My invention is designed to allow parents and caregivers with an easy way to access the child’s diaper, making the task of changing the diaper quick and simple. This easy access not only makes it much easier to change restless and squirming children, but works beautifully when changing a sleeping child, as the quiet function of the opening allows the diaper to be changed without waking the child.”
