MAAN - Herbal Health Product

Yonkers, NY— The invention of MAAN – Herbal Health Product offers a creative concept for a unique proprietary blend of Indian herbs and vegetables. This combination is reputed to prevent the development of diabetes and other ailments, when soaked in water for a specific duration, strained into a liquid, and consumed on a daily basis. MAAN – Herbal Health Product is designed to use the traditional healing methods and materials of the ancient Indian culture, increasing both the individual and public health of Western consumers.

MAAN – Herbal Health Product was invented by Nirmolk M. of Yonkers, New York. He said, “My invention is fully natural and supplies a plethora of vitamins, minerals, and other nutrients. MAAN – Herbal Health Product should find a receptive market among those health-conscious American consumers who prefer nature’s way and are drawn to the traditional, time tested remedies of the East.”
